Students of the Teachers College in 1942 enter the story by way of the north entrance. From there walks lead to all parts of the campus where the story of campus life is enacted daily.

The beginning of this story covering seventy-five eventful years was in a big frame building known as the Cumberland Academy. The building had been built for the old Presbyterian school but was never occupied. It was located on the corner of Mulanix and Hickory Streets. The school was christened the "North Missouri Normal School" shortly after its birth and retained that name until 1919 when it became "The Northeast Missouri State Teachers College."

Just eight years after its birth the setting of the story of college life changed to Baldwin Hall.

Progress Of Seven Administrations

Three quarters of a century ago on Sept. 2, 1867, as America started to set her house in order following the long and devastating war between the states, Joseph Baldwin, pioneer educator laboring to the end that democracy might prevail in America, established in Kirksville, Missouri, the first institution west of the Mississippi river devoted primarily to the education of teachers.

VOTED TO A GREAT IDEAL

An all-embracing idealism guided Baldwin in shaping his pioneer institution. Said he, "to elevate teaching from the position of a vacillating empiricism to that of the chief of the arts is the world's supreme work". With emphasis upon sound scholarship in the great fields of knowledge, a thorough understanding of the facts and processes of professional education, and expertly directed experiences in the laboratory school, he cut the pattern for the American Teachers College as it is known throughout the world today.

Seven administrations have kept faith in this far-reaching ideal and in this pattern for teacher education. From this pioneer institution have gone forth teachers and leaders to help shape the destiny of America.

CAMPUS THEN

THE STORY BEGINS

Here begins the story of campus life. Echos of what is done seventy-five years after it all started. The story in 1867 and now in 1942.

Changes and contrasts may come, but there's still the same old spirit. Not all glamour or grind, but a cross section of ideal college life.

DR. WALTER H. RYLE
President, Northeast Missouri
State Teachers College,
Kirksville, Missouri

As a student, as a member of its faculty, and finally as its seventh president, Walter H. Ryle has for many years been an integral part of the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College.

President Ryle with the attributes of the true educator carries on the traditions of Missouri's oldest teacher's training institution as it marks its seventy-fifth year of progress.

Board of Regents

As we consider seventy-five years of progress for the North-east Missouri State Teachers College, the Board of Regents must be especially considered. As the highest administrative unit of the Teachers College, the Board deserves many congratulations for what has been done.

Policies and activities through the years have been largely decided by them. Teachers and instructors of the years past and of the present have functioned under the Board's direction. From the acquisition of the actual site for the campus down through the years until the John R. Kirk Memorial, it is the Board that has handled the practical angle of campus improvement.

The Board of Regents is composed of six members from various parts of the district and the Missouri State Superintendent of Schools.

Judge J. A. Cooley, Kirksville
W. A. Cable, Hannibal
Lloyd W. King, Jefferson City
Roy R. Quinn, Moberly
Herbert I. Sears, La Plata
Charles W. Shelton, Macon
Roland A. Zeigel, Kirksville

Baldwin Hall Now

May 19, 1938, was a great day on the campus with the laying of the cornerstone of the new Baldwin Hall, as well as the inauguration of the seventh president, Walter H. Ryle. The inaugural ceremony was held in Kirk Auditorium after which the cornerstone was laid on the northeast corner of the new building. At noon there was a reunion of the class of 1916 of which President Ryle was a member.

Governor Lloyd C. Stark gave the main address at the laying of the cornerstone with State Superintendent of Schools Lloyd W. King presiding. The service was conducted by the Grand Lodge of Masons. Echos, bulletins, manuscripts of addresses, and historical documents were placed in a copper box in the cornerstone.

Members of the cornerstone committee were Dr. P. O. Selby, Dr. W. J. Bray, Mr. J. W. Heyd, and Mr. W. S. Pemberton.

Later in February, 1939, with the completion of the building, open-house was held.

Baldwin Hall houses the administrative offices and the language, music, and business education departments.

Baldwin Hall Then

Ground was broken for the old Baldwin Hall on May 17, 1871, with special services. With the laying of the cornerstone on September 6 more elaborate exercises were held. Students, faculty, bands, and townspeople marched in a parade to the site of the new building. Among those giving addresses were President Baldwin, State Superintendent Monteith, and Colonel Norman J. Coleman.

On the memorable day of January 16, 1873, the entire school marched from the old Cumberland Academy in the northern section of Kirksville to occupy the new building on the present site of the campus. Dedicatory services were held in the chapel on February 13, 1873, with Dr. R. D. Shannon as representative of Governor Woodson, giving the principal address. During the exercises President Baldwin reminded the people of Kirksville that in his first address in Kirksville six years before he had asserted that with proper encouragement his school would become a credit to the state.

This building, named in honor of Joseph Baldwin, was the only building of the school until 1901 when the first annex was built on the northeast side. It was a two story brick building of the French-Normal style of architecture with a tower one hundred and twenty-six feet high visible for many miles around.

Classes In Action

Students in the act of learning of another age and those of the present are shown here. Hair styles and costumes are different, of course, but the students are much the same. The real change has come in the opportunities and facilities offered to them.

The history of the Teachers College is one of continued growth in curriculum and instruction for the training of teachers. After Joseph Baldwin made arrangements for using the old Cumberland Academy building, he selected the following five persons as the first instructors: Professor and Mrs. F. L. Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Greenwood, and Prof. W. P. Nason. Now in 1942 the faculty numbers between sixty and seventy persons with a corresponding increase in courses offered.

Under the present organization the curricula are offered for a two-year course for rural and four year courses for elementary teachers, high school teachers and the Bachelor of Arts degree.

In the early years of the college, library facilities were extremely meager and it was during President Blanton's administration that a beginning was made. The first state appropriation was $2,500 in 1890, which was used for departmental libraries. In 1903 a large new building was constructed, and all books were classified under the Dewey decimal system with Miss Ophelia Parrish as librarian. In 1924-1925 the Pickler Memorial Library was erected.

More of the Senior Story

I don't look so bad in the old mortar board, do I? . . . Hope I can live up to that good old adjective dignified on the 20th . . . I'm keeping my fingers crossed though till they separate the sheepskins from the goats that don't graduate . . . That diploma is one autograph everyone has got to collect . . . After that I'm in the doubtful category known as an alumnus . . . Nothing to do but go out and do great things.

After that last long march I'm on my own . . . No more cram conferences with a borrowed test . . . No more stretches of probation at Junior High hoping the kids won't yell "Why wasn't Asquith a liberal" when you're not sure what a liberal is . . . By the way who is Asquith? . . . No more getting to Thursday noon with 35 cents left and no check from home in sight till Sunday . . . I know we had him back there in . . . Gosh, I hate to pack up and stick my thumb out for the last time . . . Gosh, I'll miss the campus . . . No more waiting for the red tulips to come out . . . No more ambling across the big walk to 10 o'clocks yelling to everybody . . . I'll miss Joe Baldwin standing out there keeping his eyes on things . . . But I guess I'm getting sentimental already . . . No time for that now with that superintendent to meet in ten minutes at the placement office . . . I wish I could have some of Janet Leslie's professional attitude . . . and I've got to find someone to give my money for the portrait of Pres. Dobson . . . The last four weeks are more hectic than the rest of the whole four years . . . I've got to get some things cleaned to look decent at the senior reception . . . And Gail's recital is tomorrow night . . . and oh yes, I've got to see the draft board . . . To see whether I spend the year around a blackboard or a blackout.

The Junior Story

The smallest class in school is what we are. It's always juniors which they never aren't when they go through in three years . . . But don't think we didn't give a prom to equal any . . . Harry Struby thought it was the best rug he'd ever cut . . . We've been here three years now and we're good judges of things . . . we've given three teas and we're the best dainty jugglers this side of the faculty . . . Prexie Floren Thompson carried away LaBelle Tittle on the sea of matrimony and didn't stop till he reached Hickman High's music job in Columbia . . . Thus from spring quarter on we had a female president as Jane Jarman left the vice-presidency to Kenny Kurz and took over the executive duties . . . Gloria Waters lost a true love to the Army when Kenneth Gardner, football captain-elect, went to Fort Sill, Okla. . . . It's been a glorious year being senior college students, old enough to be drafted, and old enough to be married . . . It sort of gave us that professional attitude . . . More girls wore hose and more fellows coats . . . We're improving—we'll be teachers yet if the Army doesn't get us (Ouch!) . . . We even got to classes on time this year . . . And Jack Drennan bought a brief case to carry to Hurdland while he taught there during the spring quarter . . . Mr. Barnett and Miss Llorra MaGee squired us through a marvelous year . . . Golly, just one more year and we'll wear ye olde mortar boards.

Sophomores Story

No sir . . . This is my second year up here . . . I'm a sophomore now . . . if you want to know anything about the college I'll be glad to show . . . yes sir, just anything at all . . . Sure, why I could find my way from the Huddle to Baldwin 214 with my eyes shut . . . In fact I do every morning . . . Yessir these 8 o'clocks on C.W.T.—positive somnambulism . . . the library's over there—up on the second floor—no on the third floor. I guess it's the second floor in the big place with all those tables . . . you'll know it when you get to it (if you get to it) . . . Well, I've done pretty well . . . I made one "I" . . . The teacher didn't like me . . . I told him he was all wrong in some of his ideas and it made him mad . . . At least I've got most of my requirements off this year . . . I'm through with World Lit. . . . I like literature a lot but there's so much reading to it . . .

You ought to come over to the house and meet . . . Oh, yes, we have great times . . . Yeah, we sit around on the bed till about one and talk about what's wrong with them . . . You know if more people did that the world wouldn't be in such a mess . . . Why we had a speaker in assembly that said . . . Oh well, glad to have seen you again—give my love to all the kids at home—no I won't be riding the milk truck back for a while yet—I've got to go to the Pan-Hellenic Pavanne this week and there's an all-school Allemande the week after that . . . Thanks and if you want to know anything . . .

The Frosh Start Their Story

Gee, next year we'll be Sophomores, and the next Juniors and . . . Wonder if we'll ever make it . . . Never saw so many teas and dances before . . . Golly, orientation was stupefying but you know those mentors aren't much older than we are . . . Wonder if President Ryle remembers all those names from the reception . . . Everybody said our tea was the best all year but some fraternity goats had orders to take as many cakes as they could and we ran out . . . Boy, there sure are a lot of good-looking freshman girls, Phyllis Reeves, Betty Ellenberger, Elaine Barrows . . . Thornton Moore, our prexie, sort of liked upper-class-women, though . . . Mr. Cornwell and Miss Whitson really were swell sponsors . . . The sophomores dragged us through the mire in the tug-o'-war at Homecoming, but the freshmen next year had better watch out . . . We've registered three times now and we're pretty good at it . . . finally learned which county we were from, what our home-town papers is, and what we belong to . . . Freshman speech sure had us scared but, you know, we're pretty good speakers now . . . Yes, sir, we're coming back next year . . . Couldn't miss it.

J. J.

Do I hear a second to that motion? . . . All in favor . . . the minutes stand approved as read . . . Now we have $15 in the treasury from dues, and we'll want a full page in the Echo—we'll that's what the others are having and we've got to save some for the benefit dance . . . We're either going to have to raise the dues or find some new members pretty quick . . . Yes, I know those two have been absent for the last three meetings . . . Sure, they always have good excuses . . . I want to appoint a committee to arrange the program for guest day . . . and get something we'll all enjoy . . . No, we had him before, besides don't you hear enough of him in class . . . You're out of order, Spain-hurst; besides that I kicked the slats out of the cradle when I first heard that one . . . Raise your right hand and repeat after me . . . I do solemnly affirm . . .

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Alpha Beta Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha, the oldest sorority on the Teachers College campus, celebrated its twenty-eighth anniversary this year. Alpha Beta was first organized as a local, Kappa Theta Psi, and in 1914 was installed as a part of the national sorority of Alpha Sigma Alpha.

The Kappa Theta Psi organization had been formed by a group of Kirksville girls in the Ringo residence on the site of the old Cumberland Academy.

The national organization was founded November 15, 1901, at State Female Normal School, Farmville, Virginia, by five Virginia girls. Alpha Beta chapter celebrates this event each year with a formal dinner. In 1903 it was chartered as a national sorority. At a convention at Miami University in 1914 the sorority restricted its chapters to teachers colleges and schools of education in universities.

Social activities for the present year started with the gypsy dance. As a Christmas treat the pledges entertained the actives with a dance in Sociability Hall. The Alpha tribute to St. Valentine this year was a sport dance in line with national economy rather than the usual formal dance.

Delta Sigma Epsilon

Ruth McKinney, President; Bette Morgan, Vice-President; Emma Jo Leslie, Secretary; Mildred Pfanschmidt, Treasurer; Mildred Palmer, Corresponding Secretary; Christine Butterfield, Social Chairman; Julia Whiteside, Publicity; Marie Bankhead, Norma Lee Barb, Elaine Barrows, Marvel Brown, Lou Janice Coleman, Evelyn Fechtling, Betsy Fulkerson, Geraldine Gehrke, Mary Louise Gosney, Dorothy Hardgrove, Helen Rose McWilliam, Phyllis Mudd, Wanda Kamp Noe, Clara Ellen Schaeffer, Helen Schnoor, Dorothy Schopp, Virginia Santus, Gloria Waters, Mildred Waters, Marjory Williams, Miss Lucy Simmons, Sponsor.

Delta Sigma Epsilon

Alpha Chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon, a member of the Association of Education Sororities, was organized at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, by seven girls on that campus. The Beta, Gamma, and Delta chapters were added early in 1916 and the first two conclaves were held within that year. The first conclave was at Miami University and since that time biennial conclaves have been held.

Iota chapter of D.S.E. was organized January 29, 1921, by Miss Lucy Simmons and thirteen girls on the Teachers College campus. Since then 280 girls have been initiated. The active chapter now is composed of twenty-six members.

A formal Plantation Dance complete with pickaninnies presiding over the punch bowl and a Dude Ranch Luncheon featuring plaid skirts, ten gallon hats, and a hay ride afterwards were the high lights of D.S.E. rush season. Twelve girls pledged and all except two are now active members.

A Patriotic Dance was given by appreciative pledges and the year's activities will be topped off with a sport dance in the late spring.

Pi Kappa Sigma

Betty Collop, President; Lucille Shoop, Vice-President; Velda Simler, Recording Secretary; Aileen Arneson, Corresponding Secretary; Martha Taggart, Treasurer; Ruth A. Williams, Correspondence Editor; Betty Leslie, Sergeant-at-Arms; Annette Barb, Gail Blankenhorn, Coralee Barnes, Doris Burch, Norma Buck, Mary Frances Curtwright, Mary Alice Mabry, Velma McKay, Ruth Owens, Nadine Parvin, Helen Street, Frances Tipton, Dorothy Woodworth, Miss Bracy Cornett, Sponsor.

Pi Kappa Sigma

Pi Kappa Sigma was founded November 17, 1894, at Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, by Georgia Fox, a student, and thirteen companions. Their idea in forming the organization was to enjoy themselves socially and improve intellectually, so Pi Kappa Sigma, the oldest National Educational Sorority, had a commendable beginning.

In 1915, the policy of Pi Kappa Sigma was broadened with the idea of giving the Teachers College girl a social sorority. Pi Kappa Sigma became a member of the Association of Education Sororities in 1917.

A group of girls in 1923-24, who were Home Economics majors, tried to start an honorary Home Economics organization on the Teachers College campus. Since they did not have enough majors, it could not be established.

They then wrote to the Grand Council of Pi Kappa Sigma, asking for the establishment of a chapter in Kirksville. After receiving the signatures of the college administrators on their petition and having chosen Miss Bracy Cornett for their sponsor, the girls were able to organize Pi Chapter. The initiation pledge service was held July 25, 1924. Formal initiation was held July 26, 1924.

Since that date 227 girls have been initiated into Pi chapter.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Mu chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma is twenty-seven years old this year. On Nov. 26, 1915, a group of girls met in the ball-room of the Charles Still home and the local sorority, Sigma Delta Chi, became Tri Sigma.

Tri Sigmas turn pirate every fall and walk the plank for rushees. This year clowns followed pirates in rush activities as the progressive luncheon centered around a circus theme . . . balloons, peanuts, and stuffed animals—result nineteen super pledges.

Pledges entertained at a Christmas party at the house and later splurged for the actives with a Victory Prom.

All were busy national defenders, knitting and collecting license plates—actives challenged pledges in collecting contest and went down in defeat giving a party for their "little sisters."

No sorority spring formals were held this year because of the war, so all efforts centered on the Pan-Hellenic formal. The Sigmas played Jack and Jill at a Story Book informal dance.

The annual Founders Day banquet celebrated the sorority's forty-fourth birthday and was extra-special, following a newspaper theme.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

A banner year! Starting with a Pig Roast without a pig—(Not to mention a "Snipe" hunt or two)—then carrying on to the Smoker at the Sojourner's club, the feature attractions being Chef Rieger's super-duper Dagwood Sandwiches and Earl Sutton at the piano. Then we climaxed our rush season with the "ratty" Hobo Dance in Kirk Auditorium to come out on top with 39 pledges!

For the second time in as many years, we received the honor of having our name engraved on the cup presented to the group having the best Homecoming float.

Of course there were exams, and more exams, and some of the boys passed and some didn't (there'll always be exams, boys) but we moved on to our Annual Apache (and we don't mean Injun, either) Dance in the Women's Gym in great style.

Spring quarter rushing netted seven more boys to go through pledge season and Field-Trip Night (found that "fan-tail" pigeon yet, Moore?).

We ended things, by the Annual Dinner-Dance Formal, for the banner year!

This chapter was organized locally as Sigma Delta Tau in 1923, and was organized nationally in 1926 as one of the first three chapters in Phi Sigma Epsilon.

Sigma Tau Gamma

Sigma Tau Gamma

Sigma Tau Gamma in 1942 celebrates its fiftieth year as an educational social fraternity. Until 1921 it existed on this campus as Phi Lambda Epsilon. E. M. Violette was the first initiate. In 1921 that group affiliated with the National organization of Sigma Tau Gamma as Beta chapter. There are now twenty-seven chapters in teachers colleges throughout the middle west. In its 50 years as an organization Beta chapter has initiated over 800 men. Pres. Eugene Fair was one of its first initiates and sixteen of its alumni are now on the college faculty.

Sigma Tau Gamma is professional in its scope, its activities, and in its relation to instruction, and chapters are located only in accredited four year teachers colleges. As a teachers college fraternity it is the oldest and largest in the United States.

This year Sigma Tau Gamma has enjoyed a wide social program including an open house for alumni, smokers, annual '49er dance, turkey dinner for rushees, picnics, and informal get-togethers. The year climaxed with the annual spring formal and banquet for seniors celebrating the fiftieth anniversary.

Pledges of the year are Calvin Brantley, Lyle Burroughs, Glen Blankenhorn, Olin Johnson, Charles Truitt, Joe Ayres, Bryce Howerton, Kenneth Gleason, William Huff, Lewis Baum, Richard Craver, Ross Carnahan, James Handley, William Davis, Marshall Cloyd, and Dean Funk.

The yearly awards for scholarship and participation in student activities were made to Dean Logsdon and Robert Mills.

Pre-Osteopathic Club

Thomas Rieger, President; Edward Cunningham, Vice-President; Robert Clapp, Secretary-Treasurer; Jane Boynton, Robert Clark, Joe DePetris, Clayton Dodson, Raymond Fisher, Leighton Harmon, Mitchell Light, Richard Mihalevich, Robert Morehead, Lewis Myers, Phillipp J. MacGregor; Elizabeth McGuire; Jeff Norconk, Cedric Rambo, Patricia Schultz, Stanley Wilson, August Visek, Miss Mildred Gelbach, Sponsor.

Pre-Osteopathic Club

The Pre-Osteopathic club was organized January 11, 1940. The purpose of the club is to promote friendship and cooperation between the pre-osteopathic students in the Teachers College and the students of K.C.O.S. and to promote interest in osteopathy as a profession.

The club is composed of twenty members who are taking a pre-osteopathic course prior to their entrance into the school of Osteopathy. The prerequisites for entrance into the club include taking an oath of the intention of becoming an osteopath and undergoing a formal initiation.

Every two weeks the club holds a business meeting which features a speaker, either from the Teachers College or the Osteopathic School. Among speakers who have addressed the club this year are Dr. Warner, dean at K.C.O.S., and Dr. Pearson, also of K.C.O.S.

Social: A sport dance on March 6, with President and Mrs. Ryle, Dr. and Mrs. M. D. Warner, and Dr. Mildred Gelbach as guests.

Blue Key

A national honorary fraternity, Blue Key dedicates itself to the function of service to the school. The local chapter was organized in December, 1925 (only a year and a half after the birth of the national organization). The main purpose of the original chapter of Blue Key was to help sponsor Homecoming activities. The local chapter has for the past three years reverted to the original purpose as their main activity.

Another tradition that Blue Key has helped to create on the campus is that of Citizenship Recognition Day. This year, for the second time, college students, who have within the past year reached the age of citizenship in the nation were honored in a special assembly program stressing the privileges and duties of citizenship. At this year's event the principal speaker was Roe Bartle.

Other activities and projects of the organization include a special Blue Key scholarship awarded each year to an outstanding sophomore boy, a student loan fund, and ushering at various events throughout the year. Expenses are met by a gala benefit dance held annually.

Officers: President, Bob Mills; Vice president, Mark Harrison; Secretary, Gerald Wilgus.

==== Cardinal Key =====

Cardinal Key is a national women's service organization founded by Major Riley at the University of Florida in 1932. Two years later the Kirksville chapter was established and held its first meeting on February 12, 1934.

Blue Key formally installed the chapter on April 26, 1934. The charter members of Cardinal Key were: Mildred McClure, Josephine Hewitt, Bonnie O'Donnell, Twyla Freeman, Leona Bolton, Frances Laughlin, Catherine Bramblet, Anna Belle Pitney, Maxine Jaynes, and Martha Shirley.

The first officers were: president, Mary Ellen Stout; secretary, Elizabeth Farrington; treasurer, Fern Harrington; and sergeant-at-arms, Margaret Case.

The activities of this sorority have been varied. It has held open house often since the first one in October, 1934. The year after Cardinal Key was organized here, a system of scholarships for girls was established at Kirksville. Two scholarships have been awarded each year since that time.

The local chapter is known as the Eugene Fair chapter in memory of the former president of the college.

Officers: President, Ida May Redkey; Vice President, Elizabeth Burns; Secretary, Janet Leslie; Treasurer, Mary E. Cook.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi is an honorary professional fraternity. Scholarship, character, and promise in the field of education are the qualities on which members are chosen. In function the organization serves the teachers college field much as Phi Beta Kappa does in Universities.

The local chapter, one of 98 throughout the United States was established on the campus March 18, 1911.

Recorded in the minutes of this year's meetings are such varied events as bi-monthly meetings in which informative programs, discussions of educational problems and social activities alternate; two alumni banquets, during the fall District Teachers Meeting and again in February when new members were initiated; and the awarding of an annual scholarship to the freshman with the highest scholastic rank.

Mrs. Pauline Knobbs, sponsor, attended the national convention of the organization during February of the present year. The constitution of the local chapter was revised also during the year's activities.

Officers: President, Charles Walton; Vice President, Zane Gilstrap; Secretary, Elizabeth Goodding; Treasurer, Adelaide Morrison.

≡ Alpha Phi Omega ≡

Alpha Phi Omega, a service organization based around Boy Scout ideals, performs service for the school and community. The members are former Boy Scouts or other men who promise to live by the Boy Scout laws.

Alpha Phi Omega was founded at Lafayette College in Eastern Pennsylvania, December 16, 1925. Since its founding the service fraternity has been expanded until it now has over one hundred chapters scattered about the country. The chapter at the Teachers College is the Epsilon chapter.

The members act as ushers at assemblies and games, carry on Red Cross drives, hold open houses, make improvements on the campus, conduct a finger printing project on the campus each year, and sponsor defense projects.

The fraternity was reorganized in 1939 after several years of inactivity. The club is now headed by President Bill Manning who is active as a Boy Scout leader. The sponsor is Dr. F. D. Hewitt, Jr.

Officers: President, Bill Manning; Secretary, Arthur Huff; Treasurer, Vernon Brockman; Historian, Fred Kob.

Pi Omega Pi

In May, 1923, a meeting of thirteen commercial students of the Teachers College was called by Dr. P. O. Selby, head of the business education department. There was need for an organization of some kind among prospective teachers and this meeting came as a result.

Through discussion of commercial organizations it was decided that the way to perfect a permanent organization, one which would hold its members together and would grow, was through a fraternity rather than a commercial club or society. As there was no national fraternity which met the needs of this group, this group decided to form one.

The efforts have been rewarded as this chapter has initiated a total of 325 students since 1923. There are more than 6,000 students in 54 different chapters scattered throughout the United States.

The main interest of this honorary fraternity is business education, and the members are selected on the basis of this interest and on scholarship. This fraternity has a national convention every two years to which this chapter sends delegates.

In the past, this chapter had the privilege of initiating one honorary member, Miss Marjorie Frank. This year it was honored by receiving into the chapter another honorary member, Mrs. P. O. Selby, wife of the founder of Pi Omega Pi.

== Alpha Phi Sigma ==

Alpha chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma was installed at the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, February 26, 1930. The first officers of Alpha chapter and also the first national officers were: Byron Cosby, president; Margaret O'Briant, secretary; Henrietta Rudasill, treasurer. Our present sponsor, Mr. Noah Richardson, was a charter member. One of the guiding lights of the organization has been the list of reasons for a scholarship organization stated by President Eugene Fair of our college. One reason which has been used as an objective of the national organization is "To furnish a worthy incentive to the maintenance of high scholarship after matriculating for college work, by providing opportunities of entrance into this organization."

The local chapter has had a successful year alternating educational and social meetings. Outstanding meetings of the year were: Miss Leuch's program on "Pottery" and Mr. Kemble Stout's program "Swing vs. the Classics." The chapter presented the annual scholarship to the outstanding member of the organization.

Officers: President, Jack Drennan; Vice President, Calvin Brantley; Secretary, Amy Ayres; Treasurer, Ruth Williams.

Honorary Art Club

The Honorary Art Club was organized December 1, 1924, under the supervision of Misses Bracy Cornett and Edna Green. In 1925 Miss Edith Dabney took charge when Miss Cornett and Miss Green were away on leave of absence. Miss Dabney continued to sponsor the organization until last year when she left and Miss Martha Leucht took her place.

To belong to the Art Club, a student must have at least ten hours in art with an average of S. Tea is served with other refreshments at meetings every Monday afternoon and a program is arranged.

The purpose of this organization is to contribute toward the development of American Art, to standardize the course of study of art in elementary schools, high schools, and colleges; and to promote the interest and appreciation of art in the home, through the schools.

Officers: President, Elizabeth Goodding; Vice President, Lovena Goodwin; Secretary-treasurer, Helen Davidson; Sponsors, Miss Martha Leucht and Miss Bracy Cornett.

Future Business Leaders of America

The Future Business Leaders of America organization is just a year old on the Teachers College campus. It is chartered under the National Business Education Council and is patterned after the Future Farmers of America. The organization has been instrumental in bringing well-known persons in the field of business education to the campus.

Meetings are held three times each quarter and are social as well as professional. Membership is open to any student in the commerce department.

Officers: President, Bert Lane; Vice president, Betty Binder; Secretary, Ruth Owens; Treasurer, Betty Leslie.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association, boasting a membership of over 100 members for each of the last four years, has been in existence on the College campus since 1921. It is a social and a professional organization open to all women in school.

W.A.A. sponsors a wide variety of activities each year. The sports program includes a tournament each quarter in one of the major sports: volley ball, basketball, softball, badminton, and track and field events. Outing activities include hiking and week-end camping trips to the W.A.A. cabin on the Chariton River. The Modern Dance group, which is a part of W.A.A., meets once a week and throughout the year gives programs for assembly and for outside groups.

Social high-lights of the year are the annual "hick" party, the Christmas supper, and teas.

W.A.A., since 1935 has sent delegates to state, district, and national physical education meetings.

Two members of W.A.A., Mary Curtright and Bertha Ross, and Miss Frances Fuller, sponsor, received national basketball officials' ratings at Columbia this year. The local rating was won by Levenia Beard, and the intramural rating by Polly Loughridge, Barbara May and Betty Leslie.

Speech Education

COLLEGE PLAYERS

PI KAPPA DELTA

READERS ROUND TABLE

Speech Education is not new upon this campus. The first K.N.S. Bulletin describes a course in speech throughout the year for each of the four years. However, the College Players and the Readers Round Table were not organized until much later. C. M. Wise and others in Prof. E. R. Barrett's class in Shakespeare organized the Dramatics Club. In 1923 the Thalian Guild was revived as an honorary group within the club for the members who took plays on the road. About 1928 the name was changed to College Players.

This year's president, Don Powell, and the other officers, have directed a program of one-acts and one three-act play. The latter part of the year has been devoted almost entirely to scene construction for the spring pageant.

In 1935 five or six people who liked poetry gathered with Prof. E. S. Avison to read for their own enjoyment. The name Readers Round Table attached itself to the group, and year by year it has grown to a membership of about 30 people. This year, Marjorie Deierling read original poetry in the Midwest Tournament and Janet Leslie placed second in the Ted Malone contest.

Officers: President, Janet Leslie; Vice president, Oakley Ethington; Secretary, Jean Simpson.

Theta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta was founded on the College campus in 1930, when the national convention at Wichita accepted the petition of the Kirksville group for an organization of sixteen members.

Since 1931 Theta Chapter has never missed either a provincial or a national tournament of Pi Kappa Delta. It was represented at the national meeting this year by a men's debate team and by Mr. Sherod Collins and Clifton Cornwell.

Every fall the local Chapter sponsors a freshman tournament in which all debaters who have not previously engaged in college competition may participate.

This year, Lundy Allen ranked first in extemporaneous speaking at the state tournament held in Springfield. Ratings of superior were received by the senior men's team and the junior women's team at the same tournament.

Since its founding twelve years ago Pi Kappa Delta has reached a membership of 100 students.

ELLEN H. RICHARDS CLUB

The Ellen H. Richards Club, organized in 1912, is a Home Economics Club named in honor of one of the founders of the Home Economics movements in the United States.

For many years this club has helped raise the money to defray the expenses of seniors attending the State Home Economics meetings by preparing and serving the luncheon to several hundred visitors on High School Senior Day.

One of the Club's feature activities has always been a Christmas party which was held this year at the home of the sponsor, Miss Llorá McGee.

Officers: President, Mary Alice Mabry; Vice president, Betty Anderson; Secretary, Virginia Switzer; Treasurer, Doris Burch; Sponsors, Misses Llorá McGee and Minnie Kennedy.

FRENCH CLUB

Le Cercle Francais, organized in the twenties by Mrs. Blanford Jennings, is devoted to a study of France, her language, her people, customs, traditions, and influence on our civilization.

The club meets once each month. The programs are usually given by the members of the organization so that they may have opportunities to use French outside the classroom and so that they may acquire in every way possible a better understanding of France's contribution to individual and social culture. One of the high lights of the year for the club is the Christmas party.

Officers: President, Calvin Brantley; Vice president, Evelyn Scott; Secy.-treas., Donovan Wilgus; Sponsor, Miss Nan E. Wade.

K CLUB

The K Club is the organization of college athletes who have earned letters in football, basketball, or track. These wearers of the letter K meet twice a month.

The purpose of the club is to bring into closer association wearers of the College letter. Both professional and social meetings are held.

The K Club has been in existence most of the years that the college participated in intercollegiate athletics. Coach Malcolm Eiken is sponsor.

Officers: President, Frank Noble; Vice president, Warren McQuary; Sec., McClellan Sooter; Serg-at-arms, Robert Stewart.

MODERN LITERATURE CLUB

One of the newest organizations on the campus, the Modern Literature Club, is just ending its third year. The first year meetings were held in the Little Theater building and this year they were held in Baldwin Hall.

Modern dramas, novels, and poetry reflecting the influence of the war on literature provided the theme for the first part of the year. Our programs were on miscellaneous writing.

Officers: President, Martha Rinehart; Vice president, Ross Allen; Secretary, Calvin Brantley; Sponsors, Miss Berenice Beggs and Dr. John Hollenbach.

GERMAN CLUB

The German club, organized in 1905, originally was composed of students and town women who met bi-weekly in various homes with the sponsor, Prof. J. W. Heyd, to become acquainted with the cultural achievements of the German speaking peoples, to sing German folk songs, and to speak and think in the German language. The programs varied with international conditions and the desires of the club members. The club has been inactive only during World War I.

Officers are elected twice each year. For the first part of the year, George Volmert headed the club. Other officers were Robert Conkin, vice-pres., and Mrs. Edward Chappell, secy.-treas.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Founded in 1905 the Historical Society ranks first in seniority of organization. A panel discussion on race relationships, a timely lecture on the bombing of Pearl Harbor, and reports on problems of South American countries are samples of subjects discussed at the meetings of the Historical Society this year. A well rounded program provides for student participation and stimulates interest in civic affairs. The program provides also for three social meetings a quarter.

Mrs. Pauline D. Knobbs, sponsor, was assisted by John Ukrop, president, and Paul Myers, vice president, in carrying out the program of the year. An annual social high light for the organization is the banquet, held during the spring quarter.

PYTHAGOREAN SOCIETY

The Pythagorean Society was formed in 1935 for the purpose of developing and maintaining an open-minded interest in mathematical problems, their applications and current interest. The first meeting was held in the library building on November 11, 1935, with eleven students present.

Carl Noble, now an instructor in mathematics in the Teachers College, was elected the first president with Edwin Sees, vice president, and Peter Heinze secretary-treasurer.

Prof. G. H. Jamison became the sponsor of the Pythagorean Society on January 15, 1936, and has been active since.

The present officers of the society are: Roy Wild, president; Clifford Thomas, secretary-treasurer.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Industrial Arts club, was organized in the fall of '39 with Mr. Otho Barnett as sponsor. Its aim is to raise the standards of industrial arts and to professionalize it.

The making of coat racks for school dances, fashioning highly decorative floats for Homecoming parades, and arranging a decorative Christmas entrance for the building have been among the high lights of the club's work. This spring the club is working on model airplanes for the Army and Navy.

Officers: President, Elbert Wills; Vice president, Joe Bean; Secretary, Harold See; Treasurer, Orville Rugh; Sponsors, Mr. Otho Barnett and Mr. Ralph Shain.

A Cappella Choir

The A Cappella Choir is an organization of selected singers that rehearses twice each week. Membership is obtained by try-outs at the beginning of the fall term. Other members are accepted during the school year to fill vacancies. During the course of the year the choir gives concerts in towns of northeast Missouri and occasionally makes more extended trips.

The A Cappella Choir was organized in 1930. During the twelve years of its existence approximately 300 different individuals have been members of the organization. Following are some of the most important appearances of the choir: Missouri State Teachers Association, Kansas City; Missouri State Music Teachers Association, Columbia; Washington University, St. Louis; National Music Association, Lincoln, Nebraska; Music Educators National Conference, Tulsa, Okla.; Broadcast over KMOX; Broadcast over KMBC.

The Choir is not limited to music majors and minors but any student in college may try out. Some of the best singers the organization has enrolled have been majors in other fields.

Dr. Barrett Stout is director.

Band

The present concert band has a real and eventful history. Prior to 1929, the band was extra-curricular and had only student conductors. Prof. R. E. Valentine took charge of the band and started it on its way. In 1937 Prof. Karl Webb became conductor and has had much to do with the present symphonic band. The present uniforms were adopted in the Fall of 1937, but before that time capes and caps were the uniform.

Many are the activities of the band. The quarterly concerts feature music majors as soloists. Other appearances are at the pep meetings, rallies, football, and basketball games. Then there are those trips with the football teams, especially that one when we defeated the University of Missouri.

The band is proud of its list of out-of-town concerts at such places as Christian College and Moberly Junior College. Many of the most successful music teachers in the state are former members of the band.

REGIMENTAL BAND

The Regimental Band of the Fourth Infantry of the Missouri State Guard is composed of 24 men, most of whom are students in the Teachers College, and is directed by Prof. Karl Webb.

Organized in February, 1941, this uniformed organization has trained 49 men in the rudiments of military music and marching. It has sponsored dances and played for military functions in keeping with its purpose as set forth in War Department regulations to boost morale.

Active members are: Lieut. Karl Webb, commanding; Sgt. Harrison Swain; Corp. Leonard Griffin; Privates First Class Frederick Lowrance, Gerald Reeves, and Marshall Cloyd; Privates Lewis Baum, William Frogge, Kenneth Gleason, John Goetze, James Handley, Norman Merrell, William Minor, Charles Neubauer, Harold Reedal, Royal Sallade, Gus Snell, Charles Truitt, Don Hamilton, and Robert Collop.

Inactive: Corps. Dean Lodgson and Floren Thompson, Jr.; Private First Class Jack Drennan; Private John Robinson.

MISSOURI GUARD

The State Guard was started to take the place of the National Guard before the National Guard was called to service. Dr. Wray Reiger organized the company in September 1941.

Dr. Reiger was elected captain; Pres. Walter H. Ryle, first lieutenant; and Frank R. Truitt, second lieutenant. Later Dr. Reiger was appointed major of the First Battalion and accepted a commission; Pres. Ryle was transferred to the Inspector General Department on the state staff; and Mr. Truitt was transferred to Battalion adjutant. The present staff is Superintendent of Schools Harvey Neville, captain; Robert Wright, first lieutenant; and Coach Malcolm Eiken, second lieutenant.

Early in 1941 the First Missouri Aviation squadron was formed in Kirksville under command of Major William Jones and a Medical Detachment was formed under Capt. J. J. Wimp. In 1941 Lieutenant Karl Webb organized the Fourth Infantry Band.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The Kirksville Symphony Orchestra, which is sponsored by the college, is composed of players in the Teachers College, in the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, the Kirksville High School, and the community at large.

This orchestra was famous many years ago under the direction of Mr. Johannes Goetze. The present orchestra, however, grew from a small group who met weekly with Prof. J. L. Biggerstaff to become familiar with masterpieces of orchestral music.

Quarterly concerts have been a regular function of the orchestra since the spring of 1930. While its primary purpose is still to offer to its members the opportunity to become familiar with orchestra literature and to acquire experience in symphonic playing, the orchestra takes pride in its reputation as a solo unit and as an accompaniment for operas and oratorios.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union is a connecting link between the College and the local church. Its function is to guarantee an attractive, inclusive program of organized Baptist religious work on the campus.

Any Baptist student who is a member of the local college Sunday School class, Y.W.A., or Young People's Union is automatically a member of the B.S.U.

Baptist Student Union Council: President, A. T. Estes; First Vice president, Betty Williams; Second Vice president, Leanna Moore; Third Vice president, Evelyn Harlan; Secretary, Sue Nester; Treasurer, E. L. Heying, Jr.; Faculty Adviser, Miss Thelma Dodson; Pastor, The Reverend Ralph M. G. Smith.

METHODIST OXFORD CLUB

The Methodist Oxford Club was organized at Camp Kiwanis on Sept. 14, 1941, and is made up of Methodist college students.

"Hobby Shop" was the outstanding project of this year for the club. The Hobby Shop had eight different hobbies represented and taught on Tuesday evenings.

Another project was work at Decker Chapel in which Betty Hines, Lavonne Dietrich, Janice Timson, Frederick Lawson, Pansy Ewing, and Lila Ruth Carroll took active part.

Two plays were presented by the club and a pageant written by the members. The organization sent delegates to the State Methodist Student Conference at Pin Oak and to a National Conference at Urbana, Illinois.

Officers: President, Vera Cannaday; Vice president, Gerald Reeves; Secretary, Martha McDuffee; Treasurer, Don Hamilton and Leila Riggs; Sponsor, Mrs. Francis J. Turner.

AG CLUB

The Agriculture Club is the organization of college boys who are interested in agriculture and in the teaching profession as a vocation. The present Ag Club was founded in Sept., 1937.

Some of the year's activities include helping with the Adair County harvest festival, listening to speeches by agriculture authorities, and aiding in the high school agricultural contests.

The social events of the Ag Club are the annual Barnwarming dance in the fall and wiener roasts on the Chariton River.

Officers: President, Melvin Johnson; Vice president, Allen DeVore; Secretary-treasurer, Gordon Johnson, first semester, Francis Gashwiler, second semester; Sergeants-at-arms, H. A. Kirk, Clifford Cosby.

SIGMA ZETA

Sigma Zeta, honorary science fraternity, is the Delta chapter of the National Organization. It was first organized December 19, 1930, by students in the fields of science and mathematics. Today as then it requires high scholarship for membership as well as genuine interest in science.

The organization meets each month to discuss and have programs of interest on current scientific advances. A highlight of entertainment is the dinner meeting held once each quarter.

Officers: President, Robert Conkin; Vice president, Lundy Allen; Secretary-treasurer, Evelyn Scott.

THE AEOLIAN CLUB

The Aeolian Club, new music club organized during the latter part of the winter quarter this year, has fifty charter members. The purposes of the club are threefold: to discuss problems that will be met by music teachers while out teaching, to learn more about music through various speakers and musical artists, and to serve as a social organization.

Officers: President, Oakley V. Ethington; Vice president, Ida May Redkey; Secy, Audrey Grossman; Treas., Josephine Willey.

ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

The Kirksville Local Branch of A.C.E. was organized in September, 1934, under the direction of Miss Willie Whitson, an instructor in the field of primary education.

This local branch was to include not only primary teachers but all those interested in elementary education. Its local purpose is social as well as professional.

Officers: President, Mary Elaine Jamison; Vice president, Frances Jane Williams; Secretary, Muriel Cady; Treasurer, El-nora Deckerd; Reporter, Betty Bob Clark.

ATHLETICS

Football

WE DID IT BEFORE AND WE WILL DO IT AGAIN

Rumor has it that football history will repeat itself. It is well known that this old College has had its share of the victories and glories of football. The reign of Don Faurot and his brother, Fred, will go down in history as producing the greatest football teams this school has ever known. The 1932, 1933, and 1934 teams were teams that almost chalked up a national record with their 27 consecutive victories. That was the greatest feat ever achieved by this institution in football supremacy.

The famous team of Curly McWilliams in 1908 won every game. His team in 1916 won undisputed championship of the M.I.A.A. for the first time. Three times between 1919-1925 the team tied for the state championship and in 1924 won the undisputed championship. The Faurot regime began in 1925.

Just a word about the fighting spirit of those men who represented the College on the gridiron this year. When men, big and powerful, cry like babies for a chance to get into the game and Fight for their school, when hearty men, blinded from blow and injury, tired and exhausted, sob and plead for a chance to stay in the game, is it any wonder then that this school has produced great football teams and is it any wonder they will continue to produce such teams?

Football - 1941 Edition

Four games won, one tied and four lost was the record chalked up by the 1941 Fighting Bulldogs under the captaincy of Frank Noble, left end. The Dogs rolled up 71 points to their opponents' 77.

The first game of the season with the Missouri Valley Vikings ended 7-0 in the Dogs' favor. Other conference games the Vikings rolled up 20-40 points against their opponents. Upper Iowa next—they led at the half 6-0 but the Dogs outlasted and outplayed the Iowans in the last half to win 14-6.

A long trip to Conway, Arkansas, tired out the Bulldogs, and a game played in a light rain in 85 degree temperature wore them down. Conway held them on the 1-yard line in the mud and their halfback got loose for 60 yards in the last quarter. The game ended 2-6 in Arkansas' favor.

Cape Indians were outcharged and outplayed. Bohmbach's running and the fine defensive play of Ligon and Axt helped the Dogs amass 20 points to Cape's 7.

Springfield—a heart breaker! Behind 13-0 at the half, the Dogs led 14-13 in the fourth quarter and lost in the last 8 seconds. Final score 14-19 for the Bears.

Iowa Wesleyan—ahead 13-7 with five minutes to go. Then Bohmbach and Shoopman ran 40 yards apiece, Shoopman eventually carrying the ball over. Dogs won 14-13.

Warrensburg—Yes, they had a big line and a good kicker. They won in the mud with a defensive game 6-0.

Maryville: The most hard fought of the season's hard fought games. The score ended 0-0 before their Homecoming crowd. The fine determined spirit of all the Dogs characterized the game.

Riddled with injuries, the Dogs lost to Rolla 20-0.

The season closed with a fine football banquet at the Travelers, with Grover Morgan the guest speaker.

Kenneth Gardner was unanimously elected football captain for the coming season, and soon left to work for Uncle Sam at Fort Sill, Okla.

Coaches Eiken and Noble awarded 24 letters to the '41 edition of Bulldogs.

John Ligon, center, was placed on the first all-conference team. Bob Mills, guard, and Clif Bohmbach, halfback, were awarded berths on the all-conference second team.

Basketball

CAGE GAME COMES OF AGE

Basketball, the sport which is played by more boys on the campus than any other sport, basketball the sport which weekly during the winter months fills Kirk Auditorium to capacity, is a mere infant when its chronological age is considered. Basketball was first played as a varsity sport on the campus in 1918 just 18 years after football made its appearance. Since 1920, the team has been an annual thing, and its history includes many bright spots such as the great teams of 1926-27 and the All-

"Doc" Sooter

Bill Stock

Bert Lane

John Shores

conference individual scoring record of 149 points in 10 games by Shores in 1940-41.

Basketball is now the only sport in which we strive to defeat the Osteopaths, although in times past the intra-city contests have included all major sports. Any season is a success if the Doctors are defeated and the past season was very good indeed as we took two games by scores of 43-32 and 22-21.

Our boys always play in a fashion we are proud of. In the future we expect even greater things. Basketball is now 21 years old, and we expect the team to do even better since it has come of age.

Basketball 1941-42 Edition

According to Bobby Burns, mice and men often make plans. They "gang aft a'gley." So was it with the current cage court. When fans started figuring up what the knights of the hardwoods who would wear the Purple and White of K.S.T.C., they saw one of the topnotch teams of the M.I.A.A. They were still right when the '42 edition went out on the court, as far as the fight and courage of cage scrappers was concerned.

The total of games won and lost for the season stood in favor of the Dogs, with 15 games in the win column and only seven games on the losing side, but in the conference Coach Malcolm Colberg Eiken's Bulldogs took only fourth place. The two "D's," draft and defense, played havoc with the Bulldogs this year.

Clifford "Tish" Bohmbach, speed merchant of the M.I.A.A. and outstanding defensive man, had to quit school during the Christmas vacation. His draft board said so. Tish later got into the Naval Reserve in Physical Education Work under Lieut-Commander Tunney. Another blow to the fans was that George "The Gunner" Nelmark, decided not to return to school for basketball. Instead he played pro ball with last years Pro Champs.

Coach Eiken depended on seven boys to play his games this season. The seven boys who lettered were led by John Shores, six-feet-four basket shark who led the M.I.A.A. in points scored, netting 117 points. Shores made his total in nine games, missing the last one. Yes, the army got him, the Army Air Corps. Billy Stock, one of the best liked players on the squad, was at the height of his cage career, as he wowed the fans with his lofty, two hand set shots that swished the strings without touching the threads.

McClellan "Doc" Sooter, that blond who fought for every rebound down around the basket was a valuable player, and along with Shores and Stock is a senior. Bert Lane, scrapping junior guard, played most of the games. Junior Whalen, rough and ready freshman guard, was the find of the season. Bob Stewart, lanky sophomore forward, and Gerald King, Soph forward, also earned their letters for the first time.

The Dogs lost six and won four in the conference and won 12 and lost one out of the conference. During the season they twice defeated Missouri-Valley, a team which won the first two rounds of the national cage tourney in Kansas City. The games of the year were not hard to pick, that thrilling one point victory of the K.C.O.S. Rams and that other game which marked the lowest of despair, that disappointing one-point loss to the Bearcats of Maryville. Incidentally that game was the fourth in as many years that the Cats had taken the Dogs by one point.

All in all, fans had a fine display of basketball this season as the dogs turned in some thrilling games.

ADMINISTRATION FACULTY

For the last seventeen years Mrs. S. H. Ellison has served as Dean of Women for the Teachers College. Coming here in 1925, she has during those years aided countless students in social and personal problems.

The social life of the campus is under her direction as chairman of the social committee. Her presence as hostess at Teachers College activities has highlighted the expanding social program of the last few years.

The extensive orientation program and mentor service for freshman students is under her direction. Other duties include supervision of housing facilities for students and enforcement of regulations.

The work of the Dean of Women is correlated with other activities of the Division of Personnel Service.

The year 1942 marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the College and it also marks fifteen years of service for Dean Louis A. Eubank. As Dean of the Faculty and Head of the Division of Education his work is a vital force in the administrative activity of the college.

His place is much more than merely granting excuses and making announcements. He is a counselor and director of educational programs.

Before serving in his present capacity, Dean Eubank had experience as a rural school teacher, superintendent of schools, an instructor in the University of Missouri, and Dean of the Faculty at Christian College at Columbia.

Dean Eubank succeeded Dean H. G. Swanson, who became Dean of the College of Osteopathy and Surgery.

Heads of Divisions

Prof. N. W. Rickhoff heads the Division of Personnel Service, the department of the College which aids the student in making social, physical, educational, and vocational adjustments. An important phase of his work is in the Bureau of Guidance.

Advisory services and psychological methods are used to aid students in college and professional training.

The Division of Extension Service is under the direction of Prof. Tom Angus. This division has developed with the increased activity of the College throughout Northeast Missouri. It is the agency dealing with public relations and has the following bureaus: field service, correspondence and extension teaching, placements and alumni activities.

Mr. Henry Enochs serves as director of the Division of Business Service which is responsible for funds of the college and maintenance of the plant. All disbursements of the College are made through this division and it also handles the Student Memorial Loan Fund.

Ophelia Parrish Demonstration School

Greenwood Demonstration School

Ophelia Parrish Demonstration School

On the northwest corner of the campus stands the Ophelia Parrish building. Back of this structure is the story of years of work and sacrifice on the part of some of our college's most far-seeing educators. The story goes back to the old "training" or "Model" school.

This model school was established in 1867 in connection with the State Normal school and was maintained until December, 1873, when it was discontinued. In November, 1882, it was restored and renamed "Training School."

In 1925 the practice teaching system was reorganized and grades 7-9 centralized in Ophelia Parrish.

Finally in 1938 the new Ophelia Parrish building was erected adjacent to the old Ophelia Parrish. Prof. Felix Rothschild is director and Miss Jane Crow is principal.

Greenwood Demonstration School

Greenwood school became a six grade elementary school in 1925 and also elementary demonstration school for the College. The agreement was reached with the city of Kirksville early in Dr. Eugene Fair's administration and grades seven and eight were sent from Greenwood to the Junior High campus.

Prof. N. W. Rickhoff was the first director of the new set-up at Greenwood. Greenwood, under his leadership, was developed under the informal and socialized plan of handling boys and girls.

The present fine structure at Greenwood was built in 1936. Dr. C. H. Allen is the present director.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Governmental organization of the students dates back to 1915 when a constitution providing for a student council and a senate was adopted. All resident students served as members of the council, and the senate consisted of representatives of all student organizations with the officers of the council.

Another organization called the Students Association of the Teachers College came in 1923. It consisted of a league for both men and women, the student council, the student court and executive committees.

In 1926 student government as it now exists was organized. At that time the two leagues were eliminated and a single executive body established.

The members of the 1941-42 council are:

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The inter-fraternity council was organized on this campus in 1926 when the second fraternity, Phi Sigma Epsilon, was installed. Its purpose is to coordinate the activities of its fraternity members with those of the school at large. The council is composed of the chairman of the council, appointed by the president of the school, and the sponsor, president, and one other member of each fraternity. Dr. Bray is chairman of the council. The other members are: Phi Sigma Epsilon, Dr. Rieger, Dick McClellan and Gus Logomarsino; Sigma Tau Gamma, Dr. Stout, Jack Drennan, and Paul Myers.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic council is composed of three representatives from each of the four sororities namely: the president, vice president, and one other representative selected by the president of each sorority. Mrs. S. H. Ellison, dean of women, sponsors and aids the group with their activities and problems. The offices of the council are filled in rotation. That is, the offices of president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer are passed around from year to year—the president of each sorority filling one of these offices.

This year Pan-Hellenic has sponsored a Red Cross tea, a Pan-Hellenic spring formal dance, and a Pan-Hellenic banquet at which the scholarship trophy is awarded to the sorority having the highest average during the past three quarters of school.

Officers: President, Betty Collop; Vice president, Ruth McKinney; Secretary, Frances Raine; Treasurer, Eleanor Phelps; Sponsor, Mrs. S. H. Ellison.

February 19 19

Dear Mr Murphy:

I certainly appreciate the honor you have conferred upon me, but you surely gave me a tough assignment to chose the most beautiful girl.

The girls are all so pretty, it was almost impossible to make the selection. However, after much deliberation I have done so. I hope all the students will realize that the photographs were made entirely on the basis of the selections submitted. No doubt some of the pictures do not do justice to the girls, and others might be quite flattering. After looking at them for a long, long time, here are my preferences:

- 1st choice - Martha Ann Winn
- 2nd choice - Elaine Barrows
- 3rd choice - Pauline Evans

I certainly hope this selection meets with the Student Body's approval. Again thanks for the honor and thanks for your interest.

With best personal wishes, I am,
Sincerely,

Ray Kiser

Echo

The name Echo was first used as the name for the year book on this campus in 1902. Since that time each year a new record of college activity has been published. In a prologue of one of the earliest Echos the purpose of the book is stated as a true reflection on student life. Now in 1942 this purpose remains the same.

The structural make-up has changed through the years with each Echo telling the story of its era. In the older books there are class histories, mottoes, and original poetry. Literary and debating societies are featured. Recent books are streamlined and cover a wide range of activity, but the spirit is still the same.

Index

Thirty-three years ago, in February, 1909, Mary McCool, a graduate student, approached two young men in the corridor of old Baldwin Hall and asked them to attend a meeting to organize a school paper. These two young men were George Corporon and Glen Frank, who later with the leadership of Miss McCool, became the founders of the Teachers College Index.

During the Index's climb from a tabloid sized paper to its regulation seven-column size, it has never been rated lower than third place since its membership in the associations to which it belonged, beginning in 1931. It has held All-American rating several years and first class a number of times.

The Index is published through the efforts of Miss Agnes Slemons, sponsor of the paper, and the newswriting class.

The members of the staff of the 1941-42 issues are: Ross Allen, Lyle Burroughs, Robert Burrus, Bill Campbell, Patricia Campbell, Marguerite Clark, Elizabeth Goodding, Lovena Goodwin, Frank Harlan, Helen Maggart, Barbara May, Anna Lee Murfin, H. E. Otway, S. J. Shoush, Jimmy Shuey, Martha Sloop, Bette Stock, Bill Stock, Dorothy Woodworth. Betty Simpson is business manager and Miss Agnes Slemons is sponsor.

Mr. Kay Kyser, who selected our 1942 Echo Queen

Mr. Jimmy Shuey, who aided in our photographic work

Mrs. Pauline Knobbs, who provided us with pictures pertaining to the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary

To the office workers in the Dean's Office and in the Office of the Division of Personnel Service for their time and help in collecting necessary information for our yearbook

And to the following persons who assisted with writing the copy:

Ross Allen, Aileen Arneson, Bettie Lee Asbury, Amy Lea Ayres, Betty Binder, Lyle Burroughs, Zane Gilstrap, John Gulick, Mary Holcomb, Elizabeth Hoyt, Jane Jarman, Janet Leslie, Barbara May, Robert Mills, Betty Morgan, Anna Lee Murfin, Paul Myers, H.
